Celebrity Matchmaker— Web design and development

Designed and developed a website using Bulma to build the quiz. Users will be asked to answer a series of questions that will obtain information about their dating preferences/interests and see their match result. The application leverages Wikipedia REST API ,CelebrityNinjas API and Kanye Rest API to retrieve the data and build a user interface.

Work Day Scheduler— Web design and development

Designed and developed a website using moment.js and Window.localStorage. It's an ultimate daily planner. Users can quickly run through their daily to-do's and prioritize them so they're focused only on the things that matter.

Weather Dashboard— Web design and development

Designed and developed a weather dashboard using OpenWeather API to pull weather and forecast information for cities across the US and provides updated weather data and forecasting to help you anticipate and prepare for travel information.
